1. Presentation

TAUT – Terras do Anciao Ultra Trail, integrates 6 competitive races, two days of pure TRAIL in a setting in which the combination of art with landscape based on a natural element that characterizes them - the Stone.

It takes place on the 7th and 8th of March 2025, it is already a reference at national level and we will continue to maintain this reference with the 11th edition of Trail Running, starting in Ansião, where it is planned to pass through the roads and paths of the Municipalities of Penela (Cumieira, São João do Deserto and Aldeia das Ferrarias de São João), Castanheira de Pêra (Peralcovo, Capela Santo António das Neves), Figueiró dos Vinhos (Cercal, Arega and Aguda) and Pombal (Freguesia de Abiul and Serra de Sicó).

There will be a few hundred athletes looking for the "Stone Territories" and enjoying the São João do Deserto mountains, the villages and the beautiful trails of the Serra de Sicó and the banks of Foz de Alge.

Beauty and hardness will certainly not be lacking and appeals to the Guardian Angel will arise, but, in the end, everyone will be surrendered to the charms and corners of the region, an integral part of the cultural network Território de Pedra, our magnificent mountain limestone massifs, where typical villages, with its houses and loose stone walls, interspersed with the fields, are expected to have a good turnout from the various Trail teams in the region, from across the national territory and across borders, as has already happened in other events.

The two days of sport, conviviality and overcoming bring athletes into direct contact with the vast cultural heritage, namely Anciao, which gives its name to the event, which aims to publicize and promote sports in the form of Trail Running, but also the territories where the event takes place.

The routes with extreme natural beauty are not easy, but the trails and landscapes are worth all the effort.

-ANGEL CHALLENGE will stay in your memory! (5.4.)

The following description is intended to give a generic orientation of the routes, the departures of all routes are circular, starting and ending in the center of Vila de Ansião:

- TAUTE XL (180K) Trail Ultra Endurance Afterwards, it passes through the villages of Cabeça da Corte, and until here the route is mostly uphill and with very technical single tracks, especially those that follow the Serra de Sicó. Passing through Poios, heading towards the parish of Alvorge, the route continues to the parish of Cumieira, then through the village of Bouça and heading to the Capela de São João do Deserto, where we enter an up and down climb that is as beautiful as it is hard, passing through the beautiful village of Ferrarias de São João.

Continuing to climb towards the Coentral mountain range, reaching its maximum altitude of approximately 1192m. From here the race begins to descend, passing through Castanheira de Pêra with a reinforcement at Praia das Rochas and and towards Figueiró dos Vinhos.

The route enters the village of Figueiró dos Vinhos heading to Ribeira de Alge, next to the river, passing through the imposing Fragas de São Simão.

Finally the much desired "Ascent of the Angel" and the race now heads to its final destination, the finish line in the center of the village of Ansião.

- TATL_(35K) Long Trail, starting at 2:00 pm on March 8th, runs along the trails of Ansião, where it will intersect with the three Ultra Trails in Serra da Nexebra, following the same itinerary of these races.

2. Conditions of Participation

The minimum age to participate in the TAUT competitive events is 18 years old, without prejudice to the provisions of point (5.1.), in which athletes aged 16 years or older may participate in the TATJ (Mini Trail), made until September 30, 2025. In the walk, the minimum age for participation is 14 years old, made by September 30, 2025.

Underage athletes must provide proof of the authorization of the guardian in a signed statement delivered to the organization before picking up the athlete kit.

The document can be downloaded from the registration platform or at the end of the regulation.

2.1. Regularized Registration

Registration for Ultra Trail Endurance XL; Ultra Trail Endurance and Ultra Trail involve understanding and accepting the rules and regulations of the race. The athlete must fill out the Term of Responsibility, deliver it, in paper format, at Check-In, at the event secretariat. The document can be downloaded from the registration platform or at the end of the regulation.

2.2. Semi-autonomy and foreign aid

The principle of individual racing in semi-autonomy is the rule that applies to TAU. Semi-autonomy is defined as the ability to be autonomous between two filling stations, both from the point of view of food and clothing and safety, which allows one to adapt and overcome all difficulties that arise. The following rules apply to this principle, among others:

- Each participant must carry throughout the race all the mandatory equipment described in point (3.7.).
- The material must be transported in an appropriate bag/bag/backpack and must be presented for inspection by the judges or the organization, whenever they request it, under penalty of penalty/disqualification if they do not have it or do not consent to the inspection.
- At the Support and Control Posts (PAC) there will be drinks and food to be consumed on site. Only water may be provided to complete the containers that the competitors carry with them for this purpose.

2.3. Dorsal / Athlete number

The bib number is the identifying element of the athlete in the race and it contains the athlete number that is personal and non-transferable. The bib must be permanently visible throughout the race, that is, it must be positioned on clothing, in the chest, abdomen or leg area and cannot be, for any reason, fixed to the back.

Only participants with a visible bib number will have access to the gas stations.

In case of withdrawal, disqualification or time bar, the athlete is obliged to hand over the bib number to the organization, and its return may be requested at the end of the race. In case of withdrawal, it is mandatory to communicate the abandonment to the organization.

Failure to comply with these rules will result in the penalty provided for in point (3.13).

3. Race

The first trail run held in the Ansião region by the ANSIBIKERS was in 2013. Since then it has been recognized by everyone: athletes, supporters, volunteers, institutions and sponsors.

Serra de Sicó, São João do Deserto, Fragas de São Simão and Serra do Anjo da Guarda will be the protagonists with whom participants will embark on this magnificent adventure through nature in its pure state.

It will be a rediscovery of Ansião Coração de Sicó and its natural charms.

Its courses take place in road and single track areas, where, in addition to the altimetry, one of the biggest difficulties that athletes may face is the technical demand.

It is a candidate event for the Trail Running circuit in Portugal. Certification by ITRA - International Trail Running Association, as well as by UTMB Index.

3.1. Route Signage/GPS the TAUTE XL

It runs mostly, but not exclusively, through the Serra de Sicó, a road that is signaled on the ground by a set of equipment that includes poles and direction arrows, as well as reflective tape, in order to indicate the direction of the route.

Notwithstanding this, the entire route of the TAUTE XL must be guided exclusively using a GPS device/watch. The GPS device/watch, in addition to ensuring that you are taking the route stipulated for the race, will allow you to confirm that you have completed the complete and correct route.

If requested, failure to deliver the equipment at the end of the race, to download the registration file, results in the disqualification of the athlete.

The GPS device/watch is a mandatory equipment and must have as its main requirements its autonomy and the possibility of recording at least 10,000 points.

The equipment must have the possibility of changing/charging the batteries at any time of the race, to ensure its normal and correct uninterrupted operation throughout the race. The files with the course of the race will be provided in advance.

3.5. Checkpoints

There will be Checkpoints (CP) throughout the races. Failure of the athletes to pass through all the checkpoints results in their disqualification, provided for in point (3.13.) Checkpoints can be manual or by automatic chip reading.

3.6. Time control methodology

The athlete's time control will be carried out by electronic means "chip". Athletes may be asked to, at a given time, receive and carry a geolocation device with them for the purpose of monitoring the race by the security teams.

3.7. Mandatory, recommended material and checks

Like all the rules established in this regulation, also, and especially the mandatory material, has as its main objective to ensure the safety of the participants. This is the material that is part of the first measures in case of emergency: the self-protection measures of the athlete himself.

In this sense and also to guarantee the principle of semi-autonomy defined in point (2.2.), each and every one of the athletes in the race must, for their own safety, always carry with them:
